of polio by more than 99 percent - from an estimated 350,000 cases in 1988 to about 1,200 cases in 2004.

Global challenges such as the eradication of polio can only be tackled when governments, United Nations agencies, and civil society organizations like Rotary International and its membership work together in partnership over many years. Rotarians should be proud that due to their efforts over 2 billion children have been vaccinated, and more than 5 million children who would have been paralyzed by polio are walking today.

A world without polio is truly within our grasp. Together we must ensure that all children are reached and immunized in 2005, even in the most difficult-to-reach areas of the world.

Thank you and the members of your club for your outstanding commitment and very noble efforts to provide a healthier future for children all over the world. You truly exemplify Rotary International's motto of Service Above Self.

It has been our privilege to work in partnership with Rotary International since 1985 in the Global Polio Eradication Initiative, and we are honored to acknowledge the selfless dedication of Rotarians in this historic effort. It was Rotary International's original vision that convinced the global community to take on this immense challenge. Now, thanks to the extraordinary support of 1.2 million Rotarians in more than 160 countries, your financial commitments of more than US$600 million, and your continued political advocacy, you have helped reduce the global incidence
